ENGINES & ELECTRONICS

A successful event depends on various parameters. Especially on properly maintained and functioning tools and devices. As we see maintenance and engineering services as a major part of our on-site duties we employ Team Members, who learned their trade from A to Z. To deliver excellent results out of one hand we can provide several experts when it comes to Engines, Electronics or Remote Controls. We have planned, developed and produced a highly sophisticated inflation system for Red Bull Air Race, which is one of a kind.
